OUR STORY

In 2015, Alan and his wife Truc were determined to build a sustainable business that would showcase Vietnamese culture and help others grow. With Truc and her sister Kat's strong will, they raised some money from relatives so that they could build a Vietnamese tuck-shop serving simple street food. It was not long after, they opened their very first store in Summer Hill and called it 'Saigon Summer'.

It certainly goes to show you what you can achieve with a bit of hard work, determination, a supportive team and most importantly a positive attitude. Today the Saigon Summer network has 6 successful stores and we are beginning to rapidly expand!

Saigon Summer is fast becoming one of Sydney's trending food franchises, set to expand across the country with 50 stores over the next 5 years. TESTIMONIALS

Saigon Summer Macquarie Park

Hi All, Henry and Tammy Phan here, the proud owners of the Saigon Summer Macquarie Park store. Saigon Summer is a such strong brand and that's why we wanted to get on board. Coupled with its tasty authentic, affordable menu options our business is thriving.

Since opening, we have been amazed at how both the traditional and online customer base continues to grow. We constantly receive great feedback, and in fact our 'Pho' has been described as 'the best around town!'

The ongoing support we receive from the Saigon Summer management team is outstanding. From the very beginning of the project, they were with us every step of the way. To date, we catch up weekly to review sales, marketing, and we are constantly looking at better ways of working to achieve further success at our Macquarie Park store.

With that, Tammy and I are now super confident to push forward and open another Saigon Summer store. The journey has been great and we are ready to expand. In summary, joining the Saigon Summer family has really changed our lives.

The initial training was great, and these days, if I need advice or assistance, I simply shout out, and the management and team at Saigon Summer are quick to assist.
